

II.

What is it that you want? Concentrate on the intent of your sigil. Focus on a specific desire and articulate it into a sentence using present tense. Have a clear goal. Use positive words rather than negative ones. Be assertive. This is for you, by you.

What do you want?

Ex.

“I DESIRE A WHITE PORSCHE”

You could just as easily ask for clothes, money, attention, a fuck, etc.
What do you want to channel all your energy in to?

III.

Once you've written down your desire, crossed out all the vowels and the repeated letters (e.g. “DSRWHTPC”), it's time to get creative. Abstract the remaining consonants into a single glyph, mashing the letters into a D.I.Y. desire symbol. Make it look trippy, psychedelic and cryptic all at once. Take your time.

Ex.

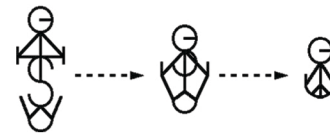

I DESIRE A WHITE PORSCHE

IV.

Now concentrate on your sigil, which should now be the focus of your desire. Clear all other thoughts and start blending erotic elements to your desire.

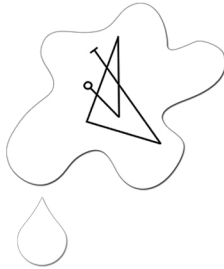

In the example of desiring a white Porsche, you might imagine yourself having sex in a white Porsche, or with someone who has a Porsche tattooed on their arm. With the fantasy in mind, make yourself cum. Sexual energy activates your sigil, planting the symbol into your unconscious: where the magick happens.

DSRWHTPC

V.

After you cum, use your fluids to decorate the sigil. This blesses it with your energy and makes it a special, intimate object.

Now that you've activated your sigil, you've given your intent a life of its own and you may do whatever you please with it. Keep it around, boil it in water or burn it at dawn. Do whatever feels right with each sigil you make. They are transient talismans.

Sigils are everywhere in the modern world. They're in art and advertisement - hell, even in love and sports. Learn and try to make your own. Group sigils are fun to make as well. Have fun. Believe in yourself. Feel the spirit. Get magickal!
